AcuCort moves forward date for publication of interim report

AcuCort has decided to bring forward the publication date of the interim report for the second quarter to August 31, 2023. The report was scheduled to be published on August 11, 2023.

The reason why the publication date has been moved forward is that AcuCort has changed supplier of financial reporting system, which implied new routines that delayed the work of compiling the report. Because of this, the company needs additional time to complete the interim report, and the board has therefore decided to change the date for publication to August 31, 2023.
