AcuCort receives new order for Zeqmelit® – strong development in the Nordic market

The pharmaceutical company AcuCort has received a new order for Zeqmelit® from Unimedic Pharma, the company's Nordic distribution partner. The order pertains to the Nordic market.

Zeqmelit® was launched in the Nordics in September 2024 and has since received a positive response from the medical community. The new order from Unimedic Pharma, AcuCort's Nordic distribution partner, relates to the Nordic market.

“The Nordic market is developing strongly, particularly now as allergy season leads to an increased number of healthcare visits. We are seeing strong support from physicians for our product. Our Nordic distribution partner Unimedic Pharma is doing an excellent job in the field – their knowledge, presence, and commitment are an important part of our success,” says Jonas Jönmark, CEO of AcuCort.

The order value amounts to EUR 60,385 and is expected to have a positive impact on AcuCort's results.

As previously communicated by AcuCort, the company received an order from Unimedic Pharma for the Danish market in April 2025.
